CASEY CORNUCOPIA

Bunjil Place have partnered with London based creative studio Bompas and Parr to present a 24-day mini-festival as part of Casey's Winter Arts Festival. From giant sculptures and guided tours to parties and the World's First Edible Fog, there's so much to do at Casey Cornucopia.

CASEY WINTER ARTS FESTIVAL

The Casey Winter Arts Festival is created with the community at its heart. Every offering in the program is by the community, for the community or with the intent to build new connections and shine a light on the incredibly vibrant municipality, rich with arts and culture that is the City of Casey. This year the Winter Arts Festival celebrates its 20th anniversary with Casey Cornucopia at the heart of this celebratory program. Visit casey.vic.gov.au/winter-arts-festival to learn more about the festival program.

Hayden Fowler is a New Zealand born, Sydney based artist whose works are highly acclaimed and multi-disciplinary. Referencing the legacy of environmental writer Rachel Carson, the video work Silent Spring depicts an isolated corner of a depleted landscape, where the skies and waters are marked by chemical change. A small colony of alien-looking hyacinths – symbols of peace, beauty and sorrow – bloom and struggle beside a bubbling sulphureous pink spring, their own bodies infused with the colour of this new eco-chemical system.
